COMMITTEE ORDERS TWO PRIMARIES

The chief news features of the Democratic Executive Committee Meeting on Monday was the decision to require a majority vote for election to county office and to limit the pledge requirements on the official ballot to that provided by statute.

The Committee met in regular session according to law at 2:00 p. m. on Monday, June 19th, and twenty-three members answered to roll call.

Lots were cast for order of names on the ballot, the results of which will appear on the official ballot below.

Assessments of candidates for campaign expenses were apportioned on the precinct should act as presiding Judge of the Election, and as such should receive $3.00 per day ,the same compensame basis as in 1920, and a motion was adopted that the chairman in each sation being allowed for election clerks and the number of clerks allowed being based on the votes cast in the respective precincts in the last primary election, this to apply to both primaries.

A resolution was adopted that the Executive Committee recommend to the County Convention that the Executive Committee be composed of one member from each voting box and that the convention choose the precinct chairman in each case as an executive committeeman .

A Resolution was adopted requiring a majority vote for election to county offices, thus necessitating a second primary, as in the case of state and district offices.

The committee discussed the recommendation of the state executive committee concerning additional qualifications for voting in the primary, and motion was adopted that the pledge at the head of the ticket be made to correspond to Article 3096 of the Terrell Election Law, which reads as follows:

"No official ballot for primary election shall have on it any symbol or device or any printed matter, except a primary test, to be uniform throughout the State, which shall read as follows: "I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary;" and any ballot which shall not contain such test printed above the names of the candidates thereon shall be void and shal lnot be counted. Such ballot shall also contain the names and residences of the candidates."

The series of revival services which began last Sunday at the Central Christian Church have been most interesting and are being well attended. The sermons being preached by the Rev. BIG COSTUME CARNIVAL HERE ON JULY 4TH

Did you take part in the Legion's Days of "49?" Did you win, a fortune at roulette, faro, poker, or plain old "African golf?" Did you drink at the bar, or "shake a wicked foot" in the dance hall? Did you forget "dull care" and have the time of your life on that festive occasion? Then join us again on the 4th day of July. The celebration we are to have then will make the "Days of '49" pale into utter insignificance. "What are we going to have?" A Costume Carnival, with wheels of fortune, base ball games, fire works 'n everything. "Who is going to be there?" Everybody. Isn't the American Legiion giving the celebration? "What are we going to do?" Dance on the Square. Can't you hear that band a-teasin' and a-coaxin': can't you feel your feet a-slippin' and a slidin', even when you try to keep hem still? And the booths—all around the Square you will find them — booths where you can get red lemonade, sandwiches, near beer, balloons, rubber balls, whips and things. And the wheels of fortune, provide yourself with a fist full of American Legion money, ask "Lady Luck" to stand by your side, spin the wheel or hit the "nigger baby," and take home your prize. And then comes, as a fitting climax, the biggest thing of all—the magnificent display of fireworks at the ball park that night. Not common little old every day Roman candles, sky rockets and fire crackers, but fire works such as you have never seen before; fountains of fire, beds of flowers, "Old Glory," the Red Cross, clusters of rubies, monster rockets that burst and fill the sky with showers of colored stars; fireworks that you will remember for many a day. "Come Early—Stay Late;" haven't you seen the invitations on the placards about the Square? Send the news to your friends; ask them to don a costume—any kind and meet you here. We promise you—and them—no end of clean, wholesome fun.

GHENT SANDERFORD FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

At the proper place in this issue of the Chief will be found the announcement of Mr. Ghent Sanderford of De Leon as a candidate for the nomination for County Attorney of Comanche County, in the Democratic Primary.

Mr. Sanderford has been a resident of the county for the past three years, during which time he has been engaged in practicing law at De Leon. He was born in Bell county, and reared there, going from that county to Baylor University at Waco when he had completed his public school education and was ready for college. From Baylor he received the first of the two college degrees he holds, that of A. B. His degree of Bachelor of Laws he received from the State University at Austin.

After graduation at Austin, Mr. Sanderford established himself as a lawyer in Temple, Texas and practiced there for two years previous to his army service, which lasted till the close of the war.

After the Armistice and his release from army service, faced as were practically all of our young men with the problem of starting their careers all over, he chose De Leon as the most promising place in wcih hto "test fortune,' and opened a law office there about three years ago.

Mr. Sanderford is thoroughly equipped for the office he seeks, popular in the section of the county in which he resides and full of push and energy. He will make a vigorous campaign of the county and endeavor to meet the voters personally before the July Primary.

WOZENCRAFT BURIED AT DOWNING

The messenger, death came into the home of J. W. Wozencraft Monday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock and summoned his spirit from out the sphere of life as men see it, into the other and higher life eternal. His going away came as an ending to five weeks of suffering, his malady being undetermined by attending physicians. He had not been well during a year prior to his passing away.

James William Wozencraft was born on the famous Peach Tree Street in Atlanta, Ga., on August 25th 1857, hence would have been 64 years of age the coming August. He was married while still in Georgia to Miss Ruberta Cason, the of his marriage being 1875. They moved from Georgia to Marshal county, Ala., in 1884, where they lived until February 1901, moving to this county in that year. During the past two decades Mr. Wozencraft has been a valued citizen of De Leon territory, having lived near Downing for a number of years before finally moving to De-Leon.

In the summer of 1910 Mr. Wozencraft professed the religion of the Christ, joining the Methodist church, and has led an exempliary life. His example of honor and fine Christian character will live after him.

Twelve children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Wozencraft, six of whom survive. All these were present with their father when the end came. They are L. L. Wozencraft, Albertville, Ala; W. A. Wozencraft, Hasse Texas; Mrs. W. M. Adams, Cross Plains, Texas; J. C. Wozencraft, Margaret Texas; R. O. Wozencraft, Beulah, Wyoming; and Mrs. J. L. George of this place.—De Leon Free Press.

WESLEY BIBLE CLASS

After having passed through a glorious revival we should all be more than ever willing to work for the Lord. Let's show this by being present each Sunday on time. TWO U. OF T. BLIND RECEIVE FELLOWSHIPS

Austin, Texas, June 19—Among the students of the University of Texas who were granted fellowships at other universities in the country as a mark of special distinction attained with graduation, there were two graduates of the Texas Blind Institute. They were Paul Mueschke, of Westfield and Randolph A. Haynes of Austin. Both will be candidates for the degree of doctor of philosophy. It is believed that no other college has ever had two students thus handicapped to achieve such marked success. Both men are well known about the campus, and go about from class to class and are at home with the other students in all phases of campus life.

Mr. Mueschke, who has been awardeda fellowship in English at the University of Michigan, came to Blind Institute, and has won both his bachelor of arts and his master of arts degrees here. He has already held fellowships at the University of Wisconsin and at the University of Texas.

Mr. Haynes who has been granted a fellowship in romance languages at the University of Chicago, also received his bachelor and master degrees here. He has been instructor in romance languages at the University of Texas during the last two years. His wife, who is also a graduate of the University of Texas, has been awarded a scholarship in romance languages and will attend the University of Chicago at the same time.

Prof and Mrs. Holloway of Comanche, with her father, Rev. Randolph Clark, passed through Hamilton last Saturday morning en route by automobile to Austin where they went to witness the graduation exercisesof the State University from the law department of which institution their eldest son graduated this year. And on Wednesday Rev. Clark performed the marriage ceremony making a bride of Miss Charlie Jones, formerly of Hamilton, and an especial favorite with Brother Clark. The Holloways have another son in the University, who is to be a member of the Hamilton High school faculty the next school year.—Hamilton Herald-Record.

CULBERSON IS PHYSICALLY ABLE SAYS MILLER

"Would this man who has served the people of Texas for 28 years, who has had the highest honors in the gift of the state laid upon his head, stoop now to deal falsely with you at the end of an honorable career?" asked Judge Barry Miller of the people who had come out to hear his plea for the election of his friend Senator Charles A. Culberson on last Saturday. "You know he would not. You know he would not say over his signature that he is able to perform the duties of the great office he holds, would not ask you for that office, if he were not capable of serving you in it. When he has done this, it ought to settle the issue ,and I believe it is settled. I cannot believe that the people of any southern state will ever defeat a man who has grown old in their service because he is not as vigorous as he was in his youth."

Judge Miller cited the instances of Henry Clay, re-elected by the people of Kentucky when but barely alive; of Senator Pettus, elected from Alabama at the age of seventy and serving for twenty years, one of the most distinguished and useful men ever sent to the United States senate; of Tillman, ill and suffering, who sent to his people of South Carolina the message, 'I am old. I am sick and I suffer constantly with pain and torture. I have served you faithfully for these many years. I am soon to die, and I want to die in the service I have so long lived in.' and was re-elected overwhelmingly; of Alexander H. Stephens, great and wise and loved of the old South, honored and revered in history, who in his last years had to be carried in a wheel chair into the senate, and yet dominated by the sheer power of his intellect his associates there, such men as Jim Blaine, Garfield and McKinley.

Thus did Judge Miller close his plea for the reelection of Senator Culberson on the same note he had begun; that of the sentiment of gratitude and loyalty to a tried and faithful servant. Nor would he apologise, he declared for making the plea on the grounds of sentiment instead of cold reason, though he proposed to furnish sufficient argument also on the grounds of reason and public welfare. "Sentiment," he urged, was "a better basis for a useful life than reason without it; was the force which built our schools and churches, held men and women together in the bonds of family life, and lifted mankind above the brute beasts."

"But leaving sentiment aside," he continued, there was every reason at this time why it was imperative that the country should not be deprived of the services of a man of Senator Culberson's wisdom and power; and he pointed to the spirit of unrest in this country and throughout the world as demanding wise and tried leadership and warning us against men who might experiment disastrously with a dangerous situation.

He read many extracts from Washington papers and from individuals who had made it a point to be informed, proving Senator Culberson's physical ability to perform his duties, and branded as false the statement frequently made that he had to be pushed about in a wheel chair. He cited the Senator's presence in the Senate on the day of the great blizzard last winter, when only five members responded to the roll call, and to the proof from the Congressional Record that he had been present every day in the year.

Yet he did not seek to prove, he said, that Senator Culberson was as vigorous as in the day when that great Democrat who stirred Texas politics as no other had ever stirred it, James Stephen Hogg, had said of him, "They can say nothing against him save that he is young and good-looking." "The years have not stood still with him, nor will they stand still for you,' Judge Miler admitted; 'but today, no man can say aught against this man who was once young and good-looking' save that now he is old and feeble in body. His brilliant intellect is as scintilliating as it ever was.'

He discussed at length Senator Culberson's record of legislative achievement stating that most of the things being promised by his opponents, Culberson had done while they were still in swaddling clothes, and he cited here especially Culberson's part in establishing the Texas Railroad Commission, back in the ninties following with a discussion of the leading part he took during the Wilson Administration both before and during the war, which arduous labor it was, Judge Miller said, which broke him down and impaired his splendid physical strength describing him as a "sacrifice to his party." In his discussion of Culberson's opposition to the Esch-Cumming's Act and his active support now of all efforts to repeal it, he declared that it was not likely that a man who had helped to bring into the world the idea of the right of a state to control the railroads within its borders would now abandon it.

With regard to Senator Culberson's attitude on the prohibition question, he recalled that Culberson, 'while voting against Federal prohibition, voted for the Volstead enforcement act and voted against light wines and beer because he did not want to weaken the constitution."

"Culberson is in good physical condition and is able to care for the interests of the state. There are more unfounded rumors about him than were ever circulated before. How else could he do the work on the great committees he serves on, and to which not one of his opponents could hope for an appointment for many years, if ever? How could he have brought about the naming of the port of Corpus Christi for federal development, in which he was chiefly instrumental, though all the Texas members helped? Culberson, he declared, came before the people on a platform of performance, instead of a platform of promise.

"To argue that Culberson is not able to make a speech," Judge Miller declared, "is no argument at all against his ability to serve you. Everybody who knows national political life knows that this government is run by committees, and assignment on committee is made under the seniority rule. Culberson holds the important committee assignments of the Judiciary and Appropriations. He has been in the senate longer than any other Democrat. Only two Republicans out rank him in length of service in that body. And so far as his not being physically able to make a speech is concerned ,I can tell you that if more of your representatives in congress and in your state legislative bodies had the same handicap your taxes would be less."

"People pay too little attention," Judge Miller continued, "to the character of men they elect to lay out the taxes the people pay, and especially when a Republican administration is in power, the thing which determines whether we get our share of the tax money which is put out in improvements in the country and in proper administration of the government, is the character of men we have in the national congress and especially in the senate. How can we expect that our welfare will be properly looked after in our state if we do not have there to voice our claims a man who can make himself heard and whose standing will insure for him and our claims which he presents the consideration they deserve? And in this respect, what man is there in Texas who can command the attention that Culberson can?

Judge Miller was introduced by Jerome P. Kearby of Comanche, in a short speech in which he decalred his pride in cooperating with this "loyal friend of a loyal servant of the people" in a campaign to re-elect a man whose faithful service had won for him such loyal friends to champion his cause.

How Ironized Yeast Fills Out Figure

And Puts New "Pep" and Energy in Thin, Nervous, Rundown Folks

Hundreds of thousands of people all over the country are now taking IRONIZED YEAST tablets for health with results which in many cases are actually astonishing. For thin folks to gain five pounds or more on the very first package is not unusual. Complexions blotched with pimples, etc., are very often entirely cleared up within 10 to 14 days. As for increasing "pep" and energy, apparent "miracles" are reported by folks who were formerly rundown, weak, and lacking in physical and mental vigor.

FREE! Mail coupon below for Amazing Three Day Trial Treatment of IRONIZED YEAST. Watch the Results!

Here Is The Secret!

Nature intended that you should have a well developed figure, with the clear skin, sparkling eyes, strong nerves and rugged strength that goes with it. And if you are now thin and run-down it is because certain of Nature's laws have been disobeyed. Nature requires that we get a proper amount of vitamines and iron into our systems. But these two essential elements are lacking in the modern diet. That is why so many of us are thin and run-down.

Yeast Best When Ironized

The thing to do is to supply this lack by taking with each meal two tiny IRONIZED YEAST tablets which contain in highly concentrated form, a specially cultured yeast grown under the strictest supervision for medicinal purposes—a yeast unequalled for its richness in the essential Water Soluble B vitamines. In addition it contains the correct amount of the two other vitamines—Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble C—which are equally important to health. These three vitamines bring excellent results even if taken alone—but when taken with a proper amount of easily assimilated organic iron, as in IRONIZED YEAST, these results are secured often in just half the usual time!

Watch The Results!

Note how IRONIZED YEAST immediately increases your appetite—how it enables you to get real joy out of every morsel of food you eat. See how quickly it drives away pimples, blackheads, etc., and how your newly acquired "pep" makes hard work or play a pleasure instead of a task. Try IRONIZED YEAST today! Pleasant to take—will not cause gas or in any way upset the stomach. Each IRONIZED YEAST tablet wrapped air-tight in waxed sanitape when made, thus assuring 100% purity and strength. Special directions for children. Go to your druggist or mail coupon today—NOW!

WARNING!

Not all yeast will give the desired results. There are certain types of yeast which have absolutely no value medicinally. By insisting on the genuine IRONIZED YEAST, and refusing cheaper imitations or substitutes you can be sure that you are taking a vitamine tonic treatment which is unsurpassed in effectiveness, convenience and genuine health-building value.

The Race Victory at INDIANAPOLIS
The Road Victory at WICHITA
Help You Choose Tires

500 miles at 94.48 miles an hour—a relentless grind over a rough-finished, sun-baked concrete and brick pavement at record-breaking speed—that is the gruelling test Oldfield Cord Tires underwent successfully at Indianapolis Speedway May 30th. They were on the winner's car for the third successive year and on eight of the ten finishing in the money, upholding the confidence successful race drivers have in the trustworthiness and ability of these tires to meet the greatest demands of speed, endurance and safety. Their records in every other important race have been equally as good.

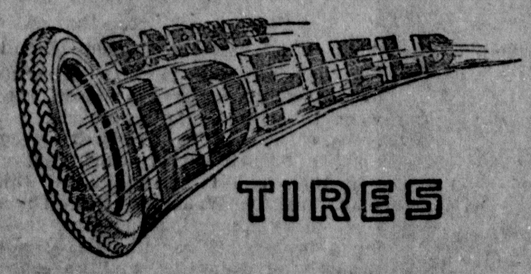
Consider this achievement along with another test of Oldfield quality made at Wichita, Kansas, this past winter and early spring.

34,525 miles on rutted, icy Kansas roads, running day and night on a Studebaker stock car without a single tire change. This test was made by a group of Wichita automotive dealers in a tire, oil and gasoline economy run. Mayor Kemp of Wichita was official observer and made affidavit to the mileage and service given by Oldfield tires.

You may never subject your tires to the gruelling experience of Indianapolis nor the steady grind of bad winter roads, but it is good to know you can get such safety and mileage economy by buying Oldfield tires. Ask your nearest dealer.

165% Increased Business

The buying public is the surest barometer of the value of any article. Their approval of Oldfield value has been demonstrated by the increase of 165% in business for the first five months of 1922 over the corresponding period of 1921.



Agents Everywhere

Oldfield Tires are distributed through 73 branches and distributing warehouses in all parts of the United States. More dealers are constantly becoming Oldfield agencies and Oldfield Tires are now available in your community.

WHO PAYS THE BILL?

Someone has to foot the bill for the present day publicity organizations and lobbyists. No piker purse could stand the drain. The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association has had an organization at Washington and in sixteen different states. The association maintains a publicity department that is a hummer and has a force of lawyer lobbyists at Washington and a field force that tours the country. Now that the Canadian Premier has turned the proposition down by declaring that he would not sponsor it at this time, the the force will of course continue to be maintained, as will also the publicity organization of the eastern interests opposed to the scheme, including the lobby at Washington and its field force, with at present such shining lights as a former collector of the port of New York and an assistant secretary of the treasury.

The American dye interests maintain a lobby at Washington and a publicity department. The German dye outfit, which is opposing the embargo, is matching the American dye crowd dollar for dollar.

The advocates of the American valuation plan of collecting tariff duties maintain a publicity organization and a lobby. The opponents of the plan maintain a bigger organization and a bigger lobby. The steel crowd, the wool crowd and the cotton crowd, the railroad group, the coal operators, the manufacturers of pearl buttons, the advocates of a prohibitive duty on magnesite, the advocates of low tariff rates on vegetable oil, all have their lobbyists and their alleged publicity experts. In spite of the slights and bangs he has received, the adroit publicity man is in the heydey of his power and glory. A successful author may get $1,500 for writing the best book of the year; the publicity man pulls down $20,000 for telling some organization or individuals with an axe to grind how to induce the people to turn the wheel. If the publicized and the publicists were gathered together, what a mighty army they would make!

It is certainly a great thing to see woman giving more importance to such items as keeping her word, responsibility for what she says, and the sort of straight dealing that the best men take as a matter of course. She had been a long time accustomed to getting what she wanted in any way she could, and doing it without any severe criticism. It is a good sign when she begins to realize that this is not good sportsmanship. She is also, however, taking on a great deal of the freedom of action and disregard of consequences which man has always arrogated to himself as his particular privilege; and this it is that makes us uneasy. What she needs most now, is to be taught in her girlhood standards of actions which her reason can embrace and respect; there is no other safeguard which we can provide for her. We have—or somebody has—turned our girls loose, as Phoebe K. Warner says, to run unguarded and at a large about the earth; and if we can't imprint in her heart standards that will be as shield and buckler to her in life's conflicts, then we can only pray and hope. For the fact that mother or father has failed to influence the girl does not mean that nobody else can. Often an outsider touches the responsive chord, and sometimes—more often than we realize—she has inherited the strength of character, the disposition to think clearly and abide by her judgment, which, though sometimes dormant at first, awakes in time to save her. There are truly more things in heaven and earth than we dream of; and the only place to write "All hope abandon," is over the door above which Dante saw it in his immortal vision.

Henry Ford is quoted as saying that he would run for president "if the people of the country desire him to do so." The people want Mr. Ford to go right on making flivvers. One flivver at Detroit is worth a dozen presidential flivvers at Washington. He has such a genius for production, however, that he may think he could make a presidential flivver with one hand tied behind him, and means to use that hand in making Detroit flivvers.

What argument do you present to your daughter to impress upon her the need of a circumspect attitude in her relations with her boy friends, a wall of reserve which will make her above the familiarity which breeds contempt? Is it only that men will not marry girls who do not observe right rules of conduct? If so, you should not be surprised if your argument did not "take". In the first place she soon finds out your facts were wrong; in the second place, we all work better for a sure reward than for a warning. Find a better reason, one that will appeal to the girl's nobility of soul, and see if she does not respond more fully.

helped by the blanket handout of a joy-fund soon to be squandered by a large proportion of the recipients. So far as Congress goes the bonus is a plain bribe for re-election; but it is far from certain that it will achieve its purpose. We think that any candidate who has the courage to oppose the bonus sponsors inthe fall elections will have no reasons for regret.—The Nation.

Hon. Oscar Callaway of Comanche, candidate for Congress to succeed Congressman Tom Blanton, addressed the citizens of Albany Wednesday afternoon. He spoke to a fair crowd, considering the hour and this busy season of the year. We are glad that Albany gave him an attentive hearing, because we believe in the spirit of fairness in the discussion of public issues, as there is no other way of arriving at the truth, except by public and private discussion. Of course, we are for Congressman Tom Blanton, but we want to say in behalf of Oscar Callaway, he ain't no doggone fool by a long shot; he has that depth of thought, possessed by a broad mental horizon, an analytical mind, seasoned with the spirit of democracy, highly tempered with political courage—and when he speaks, he says things that make you think. He holds to many beliefs in common with the editor of the News—Was opposed to the United States entering the World War, the Soldier Bonus, the encroachment of this Federal Giant on the rights of the States. He delivered a sane, clean discussion of public issues, void of personalities, and we are glad that he came—for the reason that we know more now than we did. We honor and respect the man who can lead us—Knowledge is a priceless jewel, beside it, everything else is naught. —Albany News.

On Monday afternoon Hon. Oscar Callaway of Comanche, who is aspiring to the place in Congress now held by Thomas L. Blanton spoke to a small audiience, which likely would have been larger had it not been for the busy season of the farmers. Mr. Callaway is an able speaker, a hard hitter, and in presenting his platform made voters in doing so. Owing to the busy season for the farmers, Mr. Callaway asked that we announce that he will speak here again on Saturday night, July 1st. —Merkel Mail.

Prohibition and patriotism go, sometimes, hand in hand. For instance, think what help to preparedness it is that airplanes dart perpetually back and forth across the country in the high lanes of the wind and sun with forbidden liquor in their holds. Now and then a plane falls rather too conspicuously, but for the most part the aernauts keep their own counsel and do their duty in the most stoic fashion. The Canadian border knows their light shadows, and the boundaries of all states. From town to town they take their gala cargoes, carrying surplus gallons to superfluous thirsts, their motto "Making moonshine while the sunshines." If they seem to be doing a certain violance to the law, still they are keeping alive a craft, so that if China or Guatemala or Switzerland invades us by air, we shall be ready. As a constructive measure we propose that the Rules for Rum-rummers be more carefully codified by the Association of Aerial BooNeggers and prizes offered for aces of both amateur and professional standing.—The Nation.

Centenaries should now and then look forward. One hundred years from this month, we prophesy, there will be born—not made—a poet who will lisp in numbers because the numbers come. Finding the stiff mold of verse in his time a burden he will break it and try freedom after freedom. His teachers will be worried, his parents will be shocked, his critics will be hostile, and his public will be indifferent. The Academy and the Institute will not hear of him for years, or will hear of him only to their horror. Then by and by the strangeness will wear off. He will have his partisans, his imitators; a great publishing house will bring out his works in a substantial uniform edition; in the universities he will be on the recommended lists. Two hundred years from now his centenary will be observed with robust approbation. By that time another poet will have been born and the process will be once more under way. If the process were not perennial what would writers of centenary paragraphs do?—The Nation.

All the people at home, we believe, are not altogether relying on the state treasury to run their district schools. This idea that we must look to Austin every time a country school needs a new water bucket or a recess bell, is not so much a popular idea among the common run of school patrons as these new candidates for governor may believe. There is such a thing as home rule in the school affairs of Texas, and it is a mighty good rule, too. Brown County is beginning to believe in it and apply it, as will be seen in the fact that two school districts in this county the past week voted an increase in their local taxes from 50 cents on the hundred dollars valuation to $1.00 State aid for the country schools is all right and proper, but there is no reason why each town and city and each country school district should not do its full share for the maintenance of primary education, and only a reasonable share of the obligation be placed as a burden upon the state.—Brownwood News.

Senator Pepper's victory in the Pennsylvania primaries was achieved on a frankly anti-bonus platform and in spite of an out-and-out fight on him by the American Legion. Working as the Veteran and Civic League of Pennsylvania, the Legion made the state resound with its attacks. "Pepper has insulted the veteran and his family and is strongly opposed to the bonus bill," was one of the arguments. "The way to help ourselves is to put a man in the senate who will look after our interests." But the people of Pennsylvania apparently considered their own interests superior to those of the Legion, as have voters elsewhere in a number of recent contests. Reviewing some of these, Louis Seibold notes in the New York Heralo that two candidates for the United States Senate and seven for the House who favored the bonus have been defeated. "Mr. New, (in Indiana) and Mr Burke (Senator Pepper's opponent) were strong advocates of the bonus. Congressman McFaden of the Fourteenth Pennsylvani aDistrict, who voted against the bonus, was renominated by an increased majority." Our lawmakers may find that their attempt to buy reelection with money from the public's pocket is less popular than they had supposed.—The Nation.

Hon. Oscar Callaway, candidate for Congress from the 17th district, will speak in Brownwood, at the courthouse, Saturday, June 24, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Judge Callaway is now engaged in an active campaign of the nineteen counties of the district, and his speeches are attracting favorable attention, particularly among the farmers of the district.—Brownwood News.

One of the convincing reasons against a bonus to our soldiers in the European War is that it is unwise to right one injustice by perpetrating another. We do not believe many of our soldiers suffered financially by their army service; not a few profited definitely either at the time or after their discharge. Those who did suffer are by no means the only or even the chief victims. War is full of injustice of all sorts—that is part of its cruetly—and thousands of civilians were squeezed by high prices or ruined by business dislocations. The profiteers were an insignificant fraction of the whole community. The persons for whom the country ought to have a special thought are the soldiers who returned physically or mentally unfit. The awful mental havoc of the war is by no means a closed account. The American Legion reports an average of two suicides daily among ex-soldiers nervously deranged by their experiences. The tardy effort properly to care for these genuine and special victims will be retarded rather than

THE CORNER STONE OF OLD "COMANCHE INSTITUTE" REMOVED

Fifty years ago the cornerstane of the old Comanche Institute was laid, doubtless amid much interest in the little frontier town and with appropriate ceremonies. A few days ago that corner stone was removed, and its contents examined. Owing to the fact that the settling of the walls had cracked the cement which sealed the vault, air had entered, and probably water; so that all was dust save a few coins, one of which bore the date of 1871.

The corner stone, with what relics remained intact, was given into the keeping of J. W. (Uncle Joel) Nabers, a member of Comanche Lodge No. 316 and present at the laying of the corner stone in 1872. While parts of the stone have been chipped away, Uncle Joel says much of the lettering is still decipherable.

In connection with the above, Mr. L. B. Russell, who has in his posession the records of this first Masonic Lodge in Comanche, has been kind enough to give us the privilege of publishing the following historical sketch, valuable from the standpoint of both those interested in local historical data, and those interested specifically in Masonic history.

Comanche Lodge No. 316, A. F. & A. M

The first dispensation to open a Masonic lodge in Comanche county was issued on August 21, 1868, by Peter W .Gray of Houston, who was grand master for that year, and was subsequently appointed by Gov. Coke to the supreme court of Texas. In passing, it may be said of Judge Gray that he was the author of the first law regulating general procedure in our district courts, and Judge Roberts, the ("old Alcalde,") said of him that he regarded Gray as the best district judge that ever sat upon the bench in Texas.

The original petition for this dispensation is not recorded here, but probably is in the archieves of the Grand Lodge. But the names of Enoch James, William Stonne and Dr. J. D. Wright were inserted in the dispensation as the first three principal officers, respectively in the order of their names.

Comanche Lodge U. D. (Under Dispensation) was instituted by District Deputy Grand Master T. C. Alexander, (but his residence is not given,) on October 14, 1868, the officers above nanmed being placed in charge with the following appointments of subordinates: Green Stone, treasurer; M. Whiite, secretary; Jesse M. Green, senior deacon; Red Stone, junior deacon. Rev. Jesse Johnson was present as visitor and acted as tiler, and three other visitors are named, Jesse Mercer of San Gabriel No. 89, in Williamson county, John W. Tunnell of Jamestown No. 150, in Smith county, and Abel Hord, whose lodge is not identified.

The first petition for initiation was received from A. J. F. Janes, father of Robert Janes, November 7, 1868, and the first petition for affirmation was from Rev. Jesse Johnson, of Starr Lodge No. 118, in Smiith county, received at the same meeting.

The first ballot for affilliation was at the next meeting, December 5, 1868, electing Bro. Jesse Johnson to membership, and the first Entered Apprentice degree conferred was upon Capt. J. A. Wright.

The first Fellow Craft degree conconferred was at the following meeting, January 2, 1869, on Capt. J. M. Holmsley, and at the meeting of February 6th, the first Master Mason made by the lodge was Rev. Sam Powers.

For a year or two the lodge made Masons like shaking plums out of a treee. The list is a long one, but nearly all of them have passed over the river. However, one charter member is still living, Jesse M. Greene, and is expected to be here this summer at a reunion of the Green family, unless in the meantime he becomes too feeble to travel. Others who became members during the seven years of its life and who are still living are: Capt. Jack Wright, Sam Powers, Uncle Dave Cunningham, W. Joel Nabers, J. D. Bonner, J. M. McCrary ,M. V. Fleming, G. A. Beeman, D. S. Switzer. Others who may be still living are W. F. McGeee, Joe M. Hensley, William Isaacs,, Rufus Holland and Dr. Lancaster of Granbury.

The Lodge was chartered June 19, 1869, with the officers under dispensatiion named in the charter. It was signed by Grand Master Philip C. Tucker of Galveston, who may be justly regarded as one of the founders of Scottish Rite Masonry in Texas, Deputy Grand Master C. M. Winkler, who was subsequently elected judge of the court of civil appeals, and the veteran secretary, Geo. H. Bringhurst. The lodge was duly constituted under the charter Feb. 5, 1870, no meetings being held from the previous June until this date, because of the expiration of the dispensation. The late Bro. John W. Carmack, then a member of Stephenville Lodge, acted as proxy for District Deputy Grand Master D. D. Rosborough, of Belton.

As stated in a previous published communication, the Lodge surrendered its charter June 3, 1876, because of bankruptcy following the erection of the old stone school building.

WHEN you look at a 30 x 3½ USCO at $10.90 think back for a minute as far as you can remember USCO.

The truth is that men have always found USCO an outstanding money's worth no matter what its price.

Today at $10.90 USCO maintains its established standard of quality.

And because of the new price, it sets a new index of tire value.

Men who have used USCO have never been inclined to measure its value by the general run of tires.

Since last fall when USCO established the $10.90 price range they have recognized it as a value beyond any possible comparison.

A still greater money's worth than even USCO itself had reached before.

Pre pared for Service

We have just recently installed a Wilson Wetterhold Hammer Mill type of Feed Grinder and believe me, it does the work.

With a double set of rigid hammers revolving at a speed of 2,200 revolutions per minute, ear corn, oats, maize, rocks, hammers, bolts, nor anything else can resist it. The feed is broken into uniform particles and by means of a fan drawn thru a screen, and from there into a collector from which it falls into a sack. The feed comes out cool and sweet. We are at all times trying to improve our service and quality and we feel that the grinder is quite an addition to our plant.

Creating Wealth

In an address just a few days ago, the Secretary of the Dallas Manufacturer's Association made the statement that you could not create wealth by buying everything away from home. Every time you use home made and home raised stuff you are holding the wealth with you. That's a mighty good reason for using Comanche Flour, Comanche Dairy Feed and Comanche products of any kind it is possible for you to obtain.

SAYS SHE CAN ASK NO MORE FOR HER MONEY

Mrs. O'Connor Declares Tanlac Completely Restored Her Strength And Energy—Now Feels Fine.

"I couldn't ask more for my money than I have gotten from Tanlac, for its the biggest bargain I ever ran across," was the enthusiastic statement of Mrs. Mary O'Connor, 1334 Morgan St., St. Louis, Mo.

"I suffered from stomach trouble and couldn't properly digest my food. The little I managed to eat seemed to cause gas which would press around my heart until it nearly cut off my breath. My head ached nearly all the time, I was very dizzy-headed and was so nervous I couldn't get any restful sleep at night.

"I have taken three bottles of Tanlac now and am in splendid condition. I eat anything, digest it perfectly, free from headaches and dizziness, and my sleep is sound. I am indeed glad to give Tanlac credit for my wonderful health."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

NATIONAL CAREFUL CROSSING CAMPAIGN

"The startling increase in the number of accidents on railroad crossings has made it necessary to make a nation wide effort to educate the public in becoming more cautious through a Careful Crossing Campaign, carried out by the Society section of the American Railway Association," said the General manager of one of the principal railroads in this region.

"People hurry along and often fail to notice signals and warnings when approaching railroad crossings," he said. He also cite sa recent case on his territory to illustrate this.

"On June 2nd, two days after the Campaign started, a Ford car struck the forward end of the tender of the first locomotive on a double header special Shriners' train for California, at a crossing in a town in Colorado. The wigwag signal at the crossing was operating, the train whistled for the crossing and the train bell was ringing, but the driver of the Ford car gave no heed and hit the tender on the crossing. Of the three men in the car, one was instantly killed, another died later, and the third was seriously injured. The Coroner held an inquest and rendered a verdict: "Accidental death by striking train."

"Precautions taken by the railroad to protect this crossing were of no avail, because the driver of the car took no notice of the signals or warnings."

"Railroads give the upkeep of their track a careful attention and maintain the crossings in good condition. Numerous automatic crossing signals have been installed for the protection of people using the public highways. By cooperation the public can aid in reducing crossing accidents materially.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since . . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too.

HAMILTON MEETING CLOSED LAST SUNDAY NIGHT

The revival meeting at the Central Christian church, conducted by Rev. C. C. Klingman, pastor of the Comanche Christian church, closed last Sunday night with a great service in which a large congregation took part.

Throughout the two weeks of the meeting the church was filled for each service and there was general interest, all denominations of the town joining the congregation of the Central Christian church in worship and the effort to save souls. Rev. Klingman is a wonderfully broad-minded, earnest, forceful preacher, winning and holding the undivided interest of all who heard him from the opening service of the meeting until its close.

The music and singing were very enjoyable as well as being a very great power used in calling to worship the people of the town. The orchestra was composed of Miss Eulalie Williams, piano. Miss Winifred Williams, violin; Harry Boynton, cornet. Many good singers from the other churches assisted in the singing, and the revival was very helpful to all who joined in the worship and listened to the wonderfully instructive sermons preached by Rev. Mr. Klingman.—Hamilton Herald-Record.

PIONEER CITIZEN MAKING ANNUAL VISIT TO COMANCHE

Mrs. M. E. Carter, one of the pioneer citizens of Comanche known and loved by scores of old-timers, eighty-six years old, yet able to make the long trip alone from St. Louis to Comanche, arrived here on Monday for her yearly visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Bonner and other relatives.

Mrs. Carter was born and reared a Georgian, having graduated from school in La Grange, Georgia at the age of sixteen years. Her first husband, Mr. Dantworth, father of Mrs. Bonner was fatally wounded in the attack on Fort Sumter, where the first gun in the civil war was fired. He was sent home, but died in a few days, and was buried at Americus, Georgia.

Mrs. Carter came to Comanche about 1874, and lived here continuously until comparatively recent years, since when she has resided with her son, Henry Carter, in St. Louis. She says that even with the best son in the world, however, such as her son is, she misses her own home, and the friends among whom she spent so much of her long life. She is intensely interested in all these, and in what has befallen them and their families.

Still a woman of remarkable vigor of body and mind, Mrs. Carter complains that her memory is not as good as it used to be; but to those of us who listen to her in this rushing age when we can scarcely remember till nxet week what happened last, her power of recollection seems phenominally accuraate. She employs herself with much interesting fancy work, showing a record of seven appliqued bedspreads during the past year besides various other varieties of hand work, and she keeps to a remarkable degree her interest in the affairs of the present generation.

Speaking of old friends and past events, Mrs. Carter named more than one of the native sons and daughters of Comanche now in the years of middle life, for whom she performed the first services rendered upon their arrival in this mortal sphere. In those early days, when the hired nurse was practically unknown, neighbors helped neighbors in all the relations of life: a custom demanded by necessity, but productive of a closeness of sympathy and unedrstanding among the people which is too often impossible of attainment in these days.

The competitive tire to the United States tire has not been made yet. No better material can be found, which renders competition impossible.—A. C. Motor Co.

BROWNWOOD WOMAN DELEGATE TO OPTOMETRIST CONGRESS

Dr. Mollie Wright Armstrong, mentioned in the news article below, is known to many Comanche people as having been for years a prominent optometrist and business woman of Brownwood, and especially as being a niece of Uncle Jack Wright and Mrs. R. T. Cunningham of this place.

Dr. Mollie W. Armstrong will leave Thursday morning for Indianapolis Indiana, where she will attend the convention of the National Optometic Association, to be in session for several days. Mrs. Armstrong goes as one of three delegates from the Texas Association to the national convention and has been especially honored by the Texas organization with a gift of all her evpenses for the entire trip. This honor was given to her at the recent Texas convention, in recognition of her splendid organization work as district chairman for this zone which includes Brown, Runnels, Mills, Hamilton, McCullouch, Comanche and Coleman countiies.

Mrs. Armstrong has been an untiring leader in her profession throughout the district, and has been instrumental in having located here the series of lectures and clinics which are being held in this district by the optometrists, in preparation for the rigid examinations which are to be given under the recently adopted state optometric law. —Brownwood Bulletin.
